EDNA TOLD HER TALE

The Little Ebert Girl Testified Against Conkle.

DISGUSTING EVIDENCE GIVEN

Only One Witness Heard Last Evening, but the Hearing Was Resumed This Morning—Neighbors Tell What They Saw—A Recess Taken While Witnesses Are Sought—Doctor Sloan Testified Behind Closed Doors.

The charge against J. S. Conkle, the baker who is accused of a serious crime in connection with little Edna Ebert, the nine-year-old daughter of John Ebert, was investigated at city hall today, and some of the evidence given was disgusting in the extreme.

The hearing was set for 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and all things were in readiness at that time with the exception of the presence of one witness. Doctor Laughlin could not be there, and Mayor Gilbert was about to postpone the hearing until today when Mrs. Kennedy, one of the witnesses, demanded to be heard. She said that she had arranged to go to Pittsburg today, and it was absolutely necessary that they listen to what she had to say then or it would delay her trip. She was sworn, and stated that she had seen Conkle take the child up stairs, and after reaching the room he had pulled down the blind. At another time she had seen him lift the girl over the alley fence, take her upstairs and pull down the blind, as before.
Mrs. Kennedy did not remember when these things happened, but she knew that the room was in the second story at the front of the house, and refused to say why she thought the man pulled down the blind. She stated that she was in her back yard when she saw Conkle lift the child over the fence, and Colonel Hill, Conkle's attorney, attempted to have her say that she would have to look around a corner to see it. He asked so many questions about it that the witness, very much annoyed, invited him down to view the ground for himself. She could not remember the time, but did not believe it was two months ago. Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Spies saw the happening with her, and the only reason she didn't tell the child's mother was because she didn't know Mrs. Ebert. Then they adjourned the hearing until 9 o'clock this morning.

At 9:45 this morning the interested parties were in the office of Mayor Gilbert and a crowd was on the outside, but the authorities would not have them around, and the door, was locked inasmuch as the case promised evidence of a most sensational character. The only persons admitted were the reporters and the attorneys, and it was a peculiar scene when Conkle was brought in and took his place near the mayor.
Mrs. Allison, Mrs. Jackson and the little girl, Edna Ebert, were sworn and the witnesses then separated, Mrs.
Ebert being allowed to remain with her daughter. The little one had been crying, and was very much excited when placed on the stand. She told her story in the best way possible, and as the facts were brought out in the childlike yet earnest way, the hair of the spectators almost stood on end, and more than one look of disgust went toward the prisoner, who, however, sat unconcerned, looking anything but like a man guilty of the awful crime.

Edna said that she knew Conkle, and readily pointed him out. "I saw him in his room on Second street two weeks ago," she said, "but first met him in the Diamond. The day after that I saw him in his room. He carried me in after lifting me over the fence, and then took me up stairs." Then the testimony of the child became unfit for publication. Sobbing as though her heart would break, she brought out the story with the aid of the attorneys. She said that Conkle did not have all of his clothes on, and repeatedly stated occurrences, which, if they are facts, place the prisoner in a bad light. Three times, according to the witness, was she in the room with him, and when the court demanded some definite information the child refused to talk, but slowly spelled out the disgusting crime. She said that these actions were repeated each time she was in the room with him, but she did not tell anybody about it. At length, she said she had been hurt, and she told the story to Emel Allison. She afterward said Conkle had acted badly with her on but two occasions.

When cross examined by Colonel Hill, more details were brought out, and the statement appeared that Doctor Laughlin had examined her yesterday. When she went to the room Conkle gave her pudding, rice bread and butter, and every time she visited him he had given her something to eat. Lizzie Morrow was with her, she said, when she first saw Conkle in the Diamond, and the Morrow girl asked him for a nickle. He did not have one, but he gave Edna a cent. When she went to the house with Conkle, Lizzie Morrow, Loise Allison and Clara Wassnary were with her, and they were in the room when the act was committed.

They went there, said the child, and were treated in the same way the next day. As the witness described the action, suspicion of which had brought on the case, the little knot of people looked at each other in amazement.
The cross examination failed to shake the child's story to any great extent, and she was allowed to leave the stand.

"I first saw this child a month ago in front of my door on second street," said Mrs. Allison, when giving her testimony, "and not far from where Conkle lives in the Spier house. Neighbors told me the blinds were down at the windows of his room, and to come and see, and I went and saw, and Mrs. Jackson said she had seen the girl on the street. After the blinds were down I went away because I did not want to be mixed up in the case. Afterward the child passed my door tossing up money in her hand and flipping it up. I don't know that she is in any way related to me, there are so many Allison's around, but if she is it is a far way out." The cross examination failed to develop any more facts beyond the statement that this happened the middle of last month, and there were no other girls in the alley at that time.

Mrs. Jackson told the court that she lived at 248 Second street, and she knew where Conkle roomed. She had known the girl a month or six weeks, and first saw her on the street. "When next I saw her she was going up stairs and later in Conkle's room, and I called my niece's attention to it.
Afterwards I told Mrs. Allison about it. Yes, I plainly saw the girl and Conkle in the room. She was jumping up and down as though on and off a bed. The next time I saw her she was on the street not far from Conkle's house. His daughter was there, and this child was acting as if she was there for a purpose.
She seemed to be waiting for the daughter to leave, and a few minutes after his daughter did leave the blinds were pulled down. No, sir; I don't know that he pulled them down or that the child was in the room. I had seen her on the street, but I did not see her go in. No, I didn't see her go out, but when she was on the street she seemed to wait for the daughter to go away. This was the occasion when Mrs. Allison saw her go along the street tossing up the coin." On cross examination, Mrs. Jackson stated that the first time she saw the Ebert girl she was at the foot of the stairs, and she walked up herself.

At this point in the proceedings Colonel Hill was anxious to have Doctor Sloan testify for the defense, and as she was not present it was decided to adjourn until 2 o'clock this afternoon. The state also subpoenaed Doctor Laughlin and Dr. Norris, the parents of the children saying that Doctor Laughlin had made a skillful examination yesterday afternoon. Before adjournment was taken the state asked the little one her age, and was promptly informed that she was nine years old. At that time the case seemed to rest on the testimony of the doctors.

When court convened this afternoon the same precautions were observed, and the public was not admitted although a small crowd hung about the doorway, and acted as though it expected Chief Gill to give each waiting party a reserved seat. Conkle still held up his head as though nothing unusual was happening, and smiled several times before the hearing began. The attorneys had been looking after their witnesses during the recess, but the hearing did not begin until long after 2 o'clock. The first witness called was Doctor Jean Sloan, to whom the child was taken for examination. She had no desire to make a statement in public, and Mayor Gilbert allowed her to give her evidence privately. Doctor Norris was invited to examine the child for the state, but he declined, and withdrew from any connection he had with the case.

Miss Doctor Sloan refused to testify before reporters, and the case was adjournd to the inner office. There she stated she had made no close examination of the child's condition, but that from the slight examination made there were evidences of irritation.

Mrs. Ebert was called, and she testified that Miss Jean Sloan had told her that the child had evidently been trifled with by some one.

MR. ROGERS IS VERY ILL

He Resigns as Physical Director of the Association.

C. H. MORRIS GETS THE PLACE

Typhoid Fever and an Accident Create a Vacancy, Which the Directors Fill.
The New Man Has a Good Reputation, and Begins Monday Next.

Again have the directors of the Young Men's Christian association been compelled to appoint a physical director, but looking upon the third time as the charm they think they have a man for the place.

A meeting of the directors was held last evening, and the resignation of Mr. Rogers, of Martin's Ferry was accepted. Since taking the position offered him a few weeks ago he has been attacked by typhoid fever, and is even now very ill. He was also the victim of an accident, and knowing that it would be months before he could assume the duties of the office, he declared it vacant. The directors chose C. H. Morris, of Allegheny, for the place, and he was ordered to report on Monday for duty. Mr. Morris is a trainer of long experience, and is expected to fill the wants of the association. He is a gymnasium teacher who has been eminently successful, and comes very well recommended.
Lately he has been employed by the Union Storage company of Pittsburg.
The coming of the director is hailed with delight by members of the association, anxious for gymnasium training. The apparatus recently purchased at Martin's Ferry has arrived, and soon the association will be equipped as well as any in this part of the state.

The Crew on the U. S. Snag Boat Have a Jolly Time.

The United States snag boat, lying at the foot of Market street, on account of the low state of water existing at the present time, was a scene of rare enjoyment and jollity the other evening. The officers and crew have been made aware of the fact that one of their number, Mr. Thomas Russell, a general favorite on board, is soon to enter bonds matrimonial, and they determined to astonish him with the presentation of rare china, the product of the skillful work of East Liverpool artists. The beautiful articles secured were smuggled aboard and placed in position on the dining room table, and then Mr. Russell was summoned to the room, where the entire crew was assembled to do him honor. Joe Benton made the presentation speech in a truly eloquent manner, dwelling on the many noble and manly qualities of his comrade and friend, and the loveliness of his soon-to-be bride. Joe's fervid eloquence was loudly applauded. Russell was taken completely by surprise, and his lip quivered as he responded to this evidence of the high esteem in which he is held by his companions.
He made a response which will long be remembered by those who were present. Sidney Paine and Will Gibson were also deep in the plot.

Then the china and lotus ware was turned over to the crew for inspection.
The decorations originated in the artistic mind and soul of Engineer Milton Emerson, assisted by his friend and co-worker, Mr. Jack Hall. Officers and crew united in warm praises of the exquisite designs, ware, decorations and appropriate inscriptions, while the ladies on board pronounced them "just too sweet and lovely for anything."

The inspection over, music assumed sway, and those assembled were soon swinging partners in the light fantastic. At a late hour an elegant repast was served up and mirth and jollity controlled into the wee small hours of the morning.

Company E Wants Something Better Than Reports.

Some time ago a splendid bookcase was placed in the armory of Company E, and the word flashed over the city that a library was to be one of the pleasing features connected with the organization, but the plan failed.
The bookcase came from East Palestine and was filled with a lot of old state reports. There were pretty stories of how many patients could be found at the asylums, and nearby were interesting tales of how much money had been spent in maintaining the agricultural experiment station at Wooster; but the boys didn't like the stuff, and they want a library. A member suggests a plan whereby a good collection of literature could be secured. There are between 40 and 50 men in the company, and all could bring a book of some kind to adorn the shelves of the bookcase, nearly all having books of some sort that they have no use for, and would interest other members of the company. The number of books accruing from this plan would more than fill the bookcase, and give Company E a library of which they could well be proud.

All the Anti-Saloon League Men Have Departed.

S. D. Callender, the field secretary of the Anti-Saloon league, who has been here for several days, departed for Steubenville last night, where he will continue the work. Before going he expressed himself as delighted with the treatment received in this city, and desired to thank the good people who so heartily co-operated with the league officials in presenting the work last Sunday. Those who subscribed to the fund are also thanked for their assistance in carrying on the project. S. R. Ogilvie has been appointed collector of the city and all subscriptions will be paid to him. A number of committeemen were selected to continue the work here, but their names are not announced.

THE FLOWER SHOW.

How the Auxiliary Propose to Help the Association.

The ladies of the auxiliary of the
have mapped out a number of entertainments for the winter, the first of which will be a flower show held in the rink on Friday and Saturday of next week. They are gathering flowers now, and when the show is opened will have a vast number of potted plants and blooming stocks for their friends and the public to admire and buy. Booths will be built and ice cream and other delicacies sold, the flowers being on the market also.
It is proposed to make the show one of the most beautiful and unique affairs the city ever knew, and they will doubtless succeed, as the ladies are already hard at work.

What Colonel Stickney Told the River Convention.

At the river convention in Cincinnati Col. Amos Stickney, United States engineer, stated the commerce of the Ohio river for the year ending Dec. 31, 1894, was 7,800,000 tons, which was greater than any waterway of the country, except that of the Hudson river, which is an arm of the sea and the great lakes. It would require 13,- 000 trains of 30 cars of 20 tons each to carry this commerce so easily moved by the river craft. To lock and dam the whole river would require 68 locks and dams at an estimate cost of $40,- 000,000. The system of slackwater navigation is the only one that can be used practically to give an even stage of water in the Ohio river.

What Politics Needs in Liverpool Just Now.

"Politics need a shaking up in this town," remarked a well known resident, who has been known to take a hand at making and unmaking public men, "and if we are going to have any fun this fall the ball must be tossed out pretty soon. I never saw the Democrats so dejected that they couldn't have at least one meeting during a campaign, and I never remember when the Republicans were so confident that they didn't care whether they made more votes or not.
Shake them, NEWS REVIEW, and ask why this is, in the liveliest town in the state. We can't afford to lose our reputation."

Sidney Starkey Claims His Children are Wild.

Sidney Starkey was called today before Squire Morley to tell why his children did not go to school, and made the statement that he could not control them. He was brought there by the truant officer, but so persistently claimed they were beyond his efforts that he was allowed to charge them with incorrigibility, and they will in all probability be sent to the reform school. Cases of this kind are not of frequent occurrence, the vast majority of children being in school.

The McKinley Club Will Hold an Important Session.

The McKinley club will meet this evening in Ferguson & Hill hall in the Diamond, and all the Republicans who have signed the membership papers and such others as desire to become members, are requested to be present. It is proposed to complete the organization this evening by electing officers and looking toward the securing of permanent headquarters.
Every Republican who wants to see a strong organization should be present.

The Fiend With the Knife is at It Again.

CAN IT BE A WOMAN?

The Deed Was Done at the Opera House Last Night—The Victim a Little Girl With Her Sister in Her Arms—A New Suspicion is Abroad.

The fiend who amuses himself by cutting the clothes of women when he finds them in a crowd, was out with his knife last night, and the victim, a little girl, lost her best dress.

The child is the daughter of Charles Powell, a kilnman who resides off West Market street. Early last evening she put on her best dress, and taking her little brother in her arms, went to the opera house to hear the band play. She stood in a crowd and enjoyed the music, but was horrified when she started for home to learn that her dress had been cut in ribbons. The scoundrel had quietly slipped up behind her, and while she was intently listening to the band had slipped his knife through the skirt of her dress until it was little more than a fringe. Then the individual slipped away, evidently looking for another victim, or, perhaps, satisfied for one night with his devilish work. But is the fiend a man? The suspicion has appeared that it is a woman, and that she simply carries on the nefarious work for the sole purpose of satisfying a mania.
Why anyone should think so is a mystery, but the opinion has been given more than once. The police are said to have a clue, but have never been able to gather sufficient evidence to make an arrest. If possible, the miscreant should be hunted down and punished.

The Novel Scheme of a Manufacturer Hunting Trade.

A story is current that a young woman residing in the city has accepted the offer of a chewing gum manufacturing concern, and will soon be on the road selling the sweet. The company pays her a liberal salary, and provides her with a bicycle and uniform to be used when the roads are good. The clothes are the nastiest kind of a wheeling costume, and the wheel is a beauty. When the roads are not passable the saleswoman rides on the railroads. A Wellsville girl also travels for a chewing gum concern, but she takes the regular plan.

A Wedding at St. Aloysius This Morning.

Henry McKay, of Irwin, Pa., and Miss Mary Crendon, of Fourth street, were united in marriage this morning at St. Aloysius church, the ceremony being performed by Father Smythe.
The bride was attired in changeable silk and the bridesmaids in pink. A sumptuous wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride, and many costly presents were received.
The happy couple left on the noon train for a short wedding trip, after which they will make McKeesport their future home.

The High School Foot Ball Players to Start.

The high school foot ball team have ordered uniforms and propose to make a strong fight against teams in the surrounding towns before the season is over. A game will be played in the West End on Monday, the high school being pitted against a team made up of Liverpool boys who have played the game in college. Another game is listed for Salem and will be played early in November.

The Sad Intelligence Conveyed to William Blakely.

William Blakely, a potter residing in California hollow, received a telegram last evening announcing the sudden death of his daughter, Mrs.
Bella Walls, at Greensburg, Pa. No cause is assigned in the message, and the friends here incline to the belief that heart disease was the trouble. Mr.
Blakely left this morning for Greensburg, where he will attend the funeral.

The Cry of Murder Scared Residents of Smoky.

Second street people have a grievance against a woman in that part of town, and declare that they will have her officially cited as a public nuisance.
Last night she was drunk, and began howling murder and calling for the police so loudly that it was believed violence was being done her. But when they reached the house she was doing nothing but shouting.

After the blinds were down I went away because I did not want to be mixed up in the case. Afterward the child passed my door tossing up money in her hand and flipping it up. I don't know that she is in any way related to me, there are so many Allison's around, but if she is it is a far way out." The cross examination failed to develop any more facts beyond the statement that this happened the middle of last month, and there were no other girls in the alley at that time.

Mrs. Jackson told the court that she lived at 248 Second street, and she knew where Conkle roomed. She had known the girl a month or six weeks, and first saw her on the street. "When next I saw her she was going up stairs and later in Conkle's room, and I called my niece's attention to it. Afterwards I told Mrs. Allison about it. Yes, I plainly saw the girl and Conkle in the room. She was jumping up and down as though on and off a bed. The next time I saw her she was on the street not far from Conkle's house. His daughter was there, and this child was acting as if she was there for a purpose. She seemed to be waiting for the daughter to leave, and a few minutes after his daughter did leave the blinds were pulled down. No, sir; I don't know that he pulled them down or that the child was in the room. I had seen her on the street, but I did not see her go in. No, I didn't see her go out, but when she was on the street she seemed to wait for the daughter to go away. This was the occasion when Mrs. Allison saw her go along the street tossing up the coin." On cross examination, Mrs. Jackson stated that the first time she saw the Ebert girl she was at the foot of the stairs, and she walked up herself.

At this point in the proceedings Colonel Hill was anxious to have Doctor Sloan testify for the defense, and as she was not present it was decided to adjourn until 2 o'clock this afternoon. The state also subpoenaed Doctor Laughlin and Dr. Norris, the parents of the children saying that Doctor Laughlin had made a skillful examination yesterday afternoon. Before adjournment was taken the state asked the little one her age, and was promptly informed that she was nine years old. At that time the case seemed to rest on the testimony of the doctors.

When court convened this afternoon the same precautions were observed, and the public was not admitted although a small crowd hung about the doorway, and acted as though it expected Chief Gill to give each waiting party a reserved seat. Conkle still held up his head as though nothing unusual was happening, and smiled several times before the hearing began. The attorneys had been looking after their witnesses during the recess, but the hearing did not begin until long after 2 o'clock. The first witness called was Doctor Jean Sloan, to whom the child was taken for examination. She had no desire to make a statement in public, and Mayor Gilbert allowed her to give her evidence privately. Doctor Norris was invited to examine the child for the state, but he declined, and withdrew from any connection he had with the case.

Miss Doctor Sloan refused to testify before reporters, and the case was adjourned to the inner office. There she stated she had made no close examination of the child's condition, but that from the slight examination made there were evidences of irritation.

Mrs. Ebert was called, and she testified that Miss Jean Sloan had told her that the child had evidently been trifled with by some one.

He Resigns as Physical Director of the Association.

Typhoid Fever and an Accident Create a Vacancy, Which the Directors Fill. The New Man Has a Good Reputation, and Begins Monday Next.

Again have the directors of the Young Men's Christian association been compelled to appoint a physical director, but looking upon the third time as the charm they think they have a man for the place.

A meeting of the directors was held last evening, and the resignation of Mr. Rogers, of Martin's Ferry was accepted. Since taking the position offered him a few weeks ago he has been attacked by typhoid fever, and is even now very ill. He was also the victim of an accident, and knowing that it would be months before he could assume the duties of the office, he declared it vacant. The directors chose C. H. Morris, of Allegheny, for the place, and he was ordered to report on Monday for duty. Mr. Morris is a trainer of long experience, and is expected to fill the wants of the association. He is a gymnasium teacher who has been eminently successful, and comes very well recommended. Lately he has been employed by the Union Storage company of Pittsburgh. The coming of the director is hailed with delight by members of the association, anxious for gymnasium training. The apparatus recently purchased at Martin's Ferry has arrived, and soon the association will be equipped as well as any in this part of the state.

FUN ON THE WOODRUFF.

The Crew on the U. S. Snag Boat Have a Jolly Time.

The United States snag boat, lying at the foot of Market street, on account of the low state of water existing at the present time, was a scene of rare enjoyment and jollity the other evening. The officers and crew have been made aware of the fact that one of their number, Mr. Thomas Russell, a general favorite on board, is soon to enter bonds matrimonial, and they determined to astonish him with the presentation of rare china, the product of the skillful work of East Liverpool artists. The beautiful articles secured were smuggled aboard and placed in position on the dining room table, and then Mr. Russell was summoned to the room, where the entire crew was assembled to do him honor. Joe Benton made the presentation speech in a truly eloquent manner, dwelling on the many noble and many qualities of his comrade and friend, and the loveliness of his soon-to-be bride. Joe's fervid eloquence was loudly applauded. Russell was taken completely by surprise, and his lip quivered as he responded to this evidence of the high esteem in which he is held by his companions. He made a response which will long be remembered by those who were present. Sidney Paine and Will Gibson were also deep in the plot.

Then the china and lotus ware was turned over to the crew for inspection. The decorations originated in the artistic mind and soul of Engineer Milton Emerson, assisted by his friend and co-worker, Mr. Jack Hall. Officers and crew united in warm praises of the exquisite designs, ware, decorations and appropriate inscriptions, while the ladies on board pronounced them "just too sweet and lovely for anything."

The inspection over, music assumed sway, and those assembled were soon swinging partners in the light fantastic. At a late hour an elegant repast was served up and mirth and jollity controlled into the wee small hours of the morning.

THAT LIBRARY.

Company E Wants Something Better Than Reports.

Some time ago a splendid bookcase was placed in the armory of Company E, and the word flashed over the city that a library was to be one of the pleasing features connected with the organization, but the plan failed. The bookcase came from East Palestine and was filled with a lot of old state reports. There were pretty stories of how many patients could be found at the asylums, and nearby were interesting tales of how much money had been spent in maintaining the agricultural experiment station at Wooster; but the boys didn't like the stuff, and they want a library. A member suggests a plan whereby a good collection of literature could be secured. There are between 40 and 50 men in the company, and all could bring a book of some kind to adorn the shelves of the bookcase, nearly all having books of some sort that they have no use for, and would interest other members of the company. The number of books accruing from this plan would more than fill the bookcase, and give Company E a library of which they could well be proud.

IN OTHER FIELDS.

All the Anti-Saloon League Men Have Departed.

S. D. Callender, the field secretary of the Anti-Saloon league, who has been here for several days, departed for Steubenville last night, where he will continue the work. Before going he expressed himself as delighted with the treatment received in this city, and desired to thank the good people who so heartily co-operated with the league officials in presenting the work last Sunday. Those who subscribed to the fund are also thanked for their assistance in carrying on the project. S. R. Ogilvie has been appointed collector of the city and all subscriptions will be paid to him. A number of committeemen were selected to continue the work here, but their names are not announced.

THE FLOWER SHOW.

How the Auxiliary Propose to Help the Association.

The ladies of the auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian association have mapped out a number of entertainments for the winter, the first of which will be a flower show held in the rink on Friday and Saturday of next week. They are gathering flowers now, and when the show is opened will have a vast number of potted plants and blooming stocks for their friends and the public to admire and buy. Booths will be built and ice cream and other delicacies sold, the flowers being on the market also. It is proposed to make the show one of the most beautiful and unique affairs the city ever knew, and they will doubtless succeed, as the ladies are already hard at work.

A LONG TRAIN.

What Colonel Stickney Told the River Convention.

At the river convention in Cincinnati Col. Amos Stickney, United States engineer, stated the commence of the Ohio river for the year ending Dec. 31, 1894, was 7,800,000 tons, which was greater than any waterway of the country, except that of the Hudson river, which is an arm of the sea and the great lakes. It would require 13,000 trains of 30 cars of 20 tons each to carry this commerce so easily moved by the river craft. To lock and dam the whole river would require 68 locks and dams at an estimate cost of $40,000,000. The system of slackwater navigation is the only one that can be used practically to give an even stage of water in the Ohio river.

What Politics Needs in Liverpool Just Now.

"Politics need a shaking up in this town," remarked a well known resident, who has been known to take a hand at making and unmaking public men, "and if we are going to have any fun this fall the ball must be tossed out pretty soon. I never saw the Democrats so dejected that they couldn't have at least one meeting during a campaign, and I never remember when the Republicans were so confident that they didn't care whether they made more votes or not. Shake them, NEWS REVIEW, and ask why this is, in the liveliest town in the state. We can't afford to lose our reputation."

TOO WICKED.

Sidney Starkey Claims His Children are Wild.

Sidney Starkey was called today before Squire Morley to tell why his children did not go to school, and made the statement that he could not control them. He was brought there by the truant officer, but so persistently claimed they were beyond his efforts that he was allowed to charge them with incorrigibility, and they will in all probability be sent to the reform school. Cases of this kind are not of frequent occurrence, the vast majority of children being in school.

The McKinley Club Will Hold an Important Session.

The McKinley club will meet this evening in Ferguson & Hill hall in the Diamond, and all the Republicans who have signed the membership papers and such others as desire to become members, are requested to be present. It is proposed to complete the organization this evening by electing officers and looking toward the securing of permanent headquarters. Every Republican who wants to see a strong organization should be present.

The Fiend With the Knife is at It Again.

CAN IT BE A WOMAN?

The Deed Was Done at the Opera House Last Night—The Victim a Little Girl With Her Sister in Her Arms—A New Suspicion is Abroad.

The fiend who amuses himself by cutting the clothes of women when he finds them in a crowd, was out with his knife last night, and the victim, a little girl, lost her best dress.

The child is the daughter of Charles Powell, a kilnman who resides off West Market street. Early last evening she put on her best dress, and taking her little brother in her arms, went to the opera house to hear the band play. She stood in a crowd and enjoyed the music, but was horrified when she started for home to learn that her dress had been cut in ribbons. The scoundrel had quietly slipped up behind her, and while she was intently listening to the band had slipped his knife through the skirt of her dress until it was little more than a fringe. Then the individual slipped away, evidently looking for another victim, or, perhaps, satisfied for one night with his devilish work. But is the fiend a man? The suspicion has appeared that it is a woman, and that she simply carries on the nefarious work for the sole purpose of satisfying a mania. Why anyone should think so is a mystery, but the opinion has been given more than once. The police are said to have a clue, but have never been able to gather sufficient evidence to make an arrest. If possible, the miscreant should be hunted down and punished.

The Novel Scheme of a Manufacturer Hunting Trade.

A story is current that a young woman residing in the city has accepted the offer of a chewing gum manufacturing concern, and will soon be on the road selling the sweet. The company pays her a liberal salary, and provides her with a bicycle and uniform to be used when the roads are good. The clothes are the naggiest kind of a wheeled costume, and the wheel is a beauty. When the roads are not passable the saleswoman rides on the railroads. A Wellsville girl also travels for a chewing gum concern, but she takes the regular plan.

A Wedding at St. Aloysius This Morning.

Henry McKay, of Irwin, Pa., and Miss Mary Crendon, of Fourth street, were united in marriage this morning at St. Aloysius church, the ceremony being performed by Father Smythe. The bride was attired in changeable silk and the bridesmaids in pink. A sumptuous wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride, and many costly presents were received. The happy couple left on the noon train for a short wedding trip, after which they will make McKeesport their future home.

The High School Foot Ball Players to Start.

The high school foot ball team have ordered uniforms and propose to make a strong fight against teams in the surrounding towns before the season is over. A game will be played in the West End on Monday, the high school being pitted against a team made up of Liverpool boys who have played the game in college. Another game is listed for Salem and will be played early in November.

HIS DAUGHTER DEAD.

The Sad Intelligence Conveyed to William Blakely.

William Blakely, a potter residing in California hollow, received a telegram last evening announcing the sudden death of his daughter, Mrs. Bella Walls, at Greensburg, Pa. No cause is assigned in the message, and the friends here incline to the belief that heart disease was the trouble. Mr. Blakely left this morning for Greensburg, where he will attend the funeral.

The Cry of Murder Scared Residents of Smoky.

Second street people have a grievance against a woman in that part of town, and declare that they will have her officially cited as a public nuisance. Last night she was drunk, and began howling murder and calling for the police so loudly that it was believed violence was being done her. But when they reached the house she was doing nothing but shouting.

CONTRAST the many arguments of Bushnell with the bombastic bluffing of Campbell, and then think which man is best fitted for the office of governor.

If some of the stories told of the Brice boddies be true, Boss Croker would blush to think he had ever imagined himself the king of political corruption.

THE Democrats are working the close counties for all they are worth and are backing their finely put falsehoods with so much good money that Campbell may gain a few votes.

MR. BRICE can never hope to be senator from Ohio as long as he shows that he only uses its people to raise his social importance and elevate him as an individual in the eyes of the world.

It is almost time for the truthful Colonel Taylor to begin the announcement that Campbell will carry the state with a few million votes to spare. That would be in line with the kind of campaign the Democrats are carrying on.

A BLUNDER.

Campbell, candidate for governor, has blundered. His friend Mr. Brice has not yet discovered the error, but there are reasons for believing that he will know all about it on the morning of the first Wednesday following the first Monday in November. When Brice selected Campbell to head the ticket, and secured the Hamilton attorney's promise after it was known that the ex-governor would not have to pay the bill, he fondly imagined he had a treasure. Evidently he rubbed his hands approvingly together while a smile rippled out to the curling ends of his well kept whiskers; but he erred. He did not know his man.
 Brice hoped to find in him a vote getter, but instead he has proved a vote repeller. Campbell has no one but himself to blame, but strange to say he does not realize his mistake. For some reason he has not discovered that the disgraceful screeds he utters on the platform are not acceptable to the people of Ohio, and the language in which he clothes his political prevarications is not calculated to gain him strength. If he knows, he does not heed the warning of his friends, for they surely realize that the outrageous falsehoods and Munchausen stories uttered every day by the Democratic press and platform will do their cause no good. On the other hand it is showing the people that they have no ground on which to base their assertions, absolutely nothing as an incentive except the substantial offerings from the liberal hand of the New York railroad king who wants to represent Ohio in the senate.

Every mother should know that croup can be prevented. The first symptom of true croup is hoarseness.
 This is followed by a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the cough has developed it will prevent the attack. Twenty-five and 50 cent

DURRANT TESTIFIES.

He Appears on the Stand in His Own Defense.

GIVES STRENGTH TO HIS ALIBI.

He Details His Movements on That Fatal April 3 Without a Tremor—He Emphatically Denies That He Murdered Blanche Lamont.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—Theodore Durrant, assistant superintendent of Emanuel church Sunday school, has declared on the witness stand that he did not murder Blanche Lamont in the belfry of the church on April 3. With the same coolness that has characterized his conduct since his arrest, he denied the principal allegations that have been made against him by the most important witnesses for the prosecution.
 His answers were always brief and to the point. Taken altogether, Durrant's direct testimony probably had a tendency to strengthen his case. His denial while on the stand was certainly intended to impress the jury with the opinion that he was telling the truth. Questions that would ordinarily cause a visible impression on a guilty man were answered by Durrant with the utmost unconcern. Even when Attorney Deuprey asked him if on the 8d of April, or at any other time, he murdered or participated in the murdering of Blanche Lamont, the prisoner coolly replied in the negative.
 The examination of Durrant was begun with the questions relative to his age and his early life in this city.
 Coming down to the day upon which Blanche Lamont was murdered, the prisoner was asked to relate his movements from the time he left his home in the morning until he returned at night. He said he met Miss Lamont on her way to school and rode with her on a street car until he reached Cooper Medical college. He said he remained at the college until 10 o'clock, when he and another student named Ross went for a walk. Then he returned an hour later and went to the library, where he was engaged in his studies until noon.
 Then he went to luncheon with a student named Diggins, and returned at 1 o'clock. After luncheon Durrant remained in the library until 3:30 o'clock, when he attended Dr. Cheney's lecture.
 He said he was present at the roll call at the close of the lecture and answered to his name.

At the close of the lecture Durrant said he boarded a street car and rode to Emanuel church for the purpose of repairing the sunburners. He denied that he was accompanied by Blanche Lamont or anybody else. Upon entering the church he said he left his coat and vest in the library, obtained the necessary tools and ascended to the gallery. A blackboard was provided and Durrant drew a rude sketch of the church and its tall spire to illustrate the manner in which he made the repairs. He said to make the repairs it was necessary for him to lie at full length on a plank which was much lower than his feet. In this position he inhaled so much gas that he was made ill. To illustrate the manner in which the gas escaped Durrant took a burner and descending to the jury box, explained the construction of the burner to the jury. After repairing the burner Durrant said that he descended to the auditorium, where he found George King playing on the organ. King remarked that Durrant looked pale.
 Durrant replied that King would be in the same condition if he had been nearly overcome by escaping gas. At Durrant's request King brought some bromselzer, which the prisoner drank. The medicine made him feel better, and at 6 o'clock Durrant left the church in company with King. He went out of his way two blocks to converse with King, after which they separated and Durrant went home to dinner.

Durrant said he felt ill and ate but little. In the evening he went to prayer meeting at Emanuel church.
 He saw Mrs. Noble and asked her if Blanche was coming to prayer meeting.
 Mrs. Noble replied that she did not believe her niece would be present. He related a number of other minor incidents in connection with his conversation with Mrs. Noble, who evidently did not endorse his statements from the fact that she shook her head several times. At the close of the services Durrant said he went home and retired. Durrant denied that on the afternoon of April 3, he was at the corner of Powell and Clay streets, as testified to by Mrs. Vogel. He also denied the statement of three school-girls, who testified that Durrant and Blanche Lamont boarded a Powell street car at Clay street and rode toward Market. He said he did not ride on a westbound Valencia street car with Blanche Lamont, as testified to by Mrs. Crossell. He said he was never in Oppenheim's pawnshop.

"Did you, on April 3, in San Francisco or elsewhere," asked Attorney Deuprey, "indict or assist in the indictment of Blanche Lamont, or did you kill or participate in killing her?"

Durrant replied that he did not and the direct examination was at an end.

The cross-examination was confined to questions relative to the life of Dur-rant prior to April 3.

THE POPE DISPLEASED.

He Complains of the Recent Fetes Held Throughout Italy.

ROME, Oct. 10.—The letter of his holiness, Pope Leo XIII., to Cardinal Rampolla, the papal secretary of state, on the recent fetes in celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the entry of the Italian troops into Rome, has been published here. The pope says in part:

"The sentiment of humanity, which even minds dominated by passion retain, seemed to permit of the hope of some consideration in our old age, but this has been brutally ignored. We have been induced to become almost immediate witnesses of the apotheosis of the Italian revolution and the spoliation of the holy see. That which most afflicted us is the design to perpetuate rather than to terminate the conflict of which no one can measure the disastrous effects."

MANY ARMENIANS KILLED.

Turkish Troops Assist In Another Slaughter of Helpless Christians.

TREBIZONDE, Armenia, Oct. 10.—Serious conflicts between Turks and Armenians have occurred here. Many Armenians were killed.

The Turks were armed and the number of troops present here is few. No attempt was made to stop the massacre of the Armenians. In fact, it is even stated that the soldiers took part in the slaughter and in the pillage which accompanied it.

Ohio Wants a Naval Militia. movement is making in Ohio, with every prospect of success, looking to the establishment of a state naval militia. The navy department has been informed that a meeting of representatives of Ohio cities interested in the project has been called to meet at Columbus on the 14th inst. to take measures to secure the necessary legislation at the next session of the legislature. To this end a bill has already been drafted and submitted for the advice of Lieutenant Niblack, in charge of the naval militia division at the navy department, patterned upon the Massachusetts naval militia act and providing for the creation of four battalions, each comprising four divisions.

 pany. Acting Commissioner Smith says that those occupying the land are not entitled to sympathy on account of their crops, as they were notified to get off or make new leases before their crops were planted.

 the Institution's Condition.

LIMA, O., Oct. 10.—A sensational suit growing out of the failure of the Lima National bank four years ago has been commenced by James A. Hover, one of the stockholders, who has sued B. C.
 Faurot, as agent and director, and D.
 J. Cable, W. H. Harper, Jacob Moser, C. A. Metheany and W. H. Stephens, all prominent citizens and directors in the defunct bank.

Hover charged that the directors made quarterly reports that the bank's capital stock was unimpaired and that it had a surplus, while in reality the bank had no capital and no surplus remained after the payment of indebtedness. Hover charges the directors with allowing the money, property and effects of the bank to be wasted and squandered, and that its stock was thereby rendered worthless. He asks judgment for the amount of his stock and interest, which he lost in the failure.

TO IMPROVE THE OHIO.

A Permanent Organization Formed at the Cincinnati Convention.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 10.—By the adoption of a constitution and by-laws a permanent organization of the Ohio River Improvement association has been perfected. The plan of M. H.
 Sulzer of Madison, Ind., for an Ohio river commission similar to the Mississippi and Missouri river commission was adopted, but on the advice of General C. H. Grosvenor, Congressman Evans, Brownwell, Hulick, Hemingway and others, the resolution was recomsidered, tabled and the executive board authorized to represent the association in Washington and elsewhere. Addresses were made by General Asa S.
 Bushnell, Springfield; Symes Powell, Parkersburg; J. F. Dravo, Pittsburg; Charles Burdett Harp, Wheeling; John E. Shaw, secretary of the Lake Erie and Ohio Valley ship canal, and others.
 The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, John L. Vance, Gallipolis; Secretary, E. P.
 Wilson, Cincinnati; treasurer, J. D.
 Parker, Cincinnati; vice presidents, John F. Dravo, Pittsburg; E. A. Burnside, West Virginia; F. A. Laidley, Ohio; W. W. Hite, Kentucky; W. B.
 Halliday, Illinois.

ROCKERS USE DYNAMITE.

They Wrecked the Locomotive of a Passenger Train Near Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 10.—An attempt has been made near Cochran, Ind., to wreck the Baltimore and Ohio southwestern express, for St. Louis. The engine struck a dynamite cartridge which had been fastened to the inner rail. Engineer Tom Higson and his fireman were badly stunned. The fireman was unable to work.
 Great damage was done to the engine. A steel rail was blown out of place and a hole blown in the road.
 Fortunately the cars did not leave the track. The motive of the attempt was evidently robbery. Several suspicious characters were seen by the trainmen about the place, but no attempt at robbery was made by the thieves when they saw that the train was safe.

Fatal Tenement House Fire.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 10.—A fire at Sixth and Smithfield streets in a tenement house resulted in the death of Mrs.
 Ponso, aged 80, and the fatal burning of Mrs. Davis, aged 30; Julia Davis, aged 19, and Raphael Davis, a boy aged 3. Ida Minconsky, aged 3, and Mamie Ponso, aged 19, were badly burned, but may recover. Hot ashes dumped in an ash barrel in the rear of the building caused the fire.

SMALL OHIO HAPPENINGS.

A gravel pit at Carey caved in on Chas.
 Fox, fatally injuring him.
 The Fostoria street fair opens with a band tournament, bicycle races and sham battles.

The Emmett county treasury is bankrupt and the treasurer will not pay salaries until next February.

The second annual session of the Ohio Electrical association began in Piqua.
 About 75 delegates are in attendance.

 quantities of oil and gas in the well they have been drilling on the Mirick farm, near Akron.

Governor McKinley will, it is said, return next January to his old home in Canton, where he began his married life and celebrate his silver wedding there.

Mrs. R. J. Frego, the National Women's Christian Temperance union evangelist, commenced a series of meetings at the M.
 E. church at Winchester. During the meetings business houses and saloons are closed.

The guests of the Hotel Darling, a frame building at Lorain, were driven by fire, which destroyed the structure.
 Many had narrow escapes, and nobody saved his effects.

L. McAfee, of Bucyrus, was held up in the B. & O. Railway station at Fostoria and robbed of $15 in money and a gold watch. The highwayman turned his revolver on the telegraph operator, robbed him and then disappeared.

The state board of public works has requested Governor McKinley to appoint Dan J. Ryan, Henry Flesch of Piqua, and Charles E. Perkins of Akron, representatives of Ohio to the western waterways convention, at Vicksburg, Oct. 22.

The state board of health received a telegram from Joseph H. Senner, commissioner of immigration, informing it that the Marsala had a case of smallpox on board, and that eight passengers were destined for Cleveland, Grafton and CONTRAST the manly arguments of Bushnell with the bombastic bullying of Campbell, and then think which man is best fitted for the office of governor.

If some of the stories told of the Brice boudlers be true, Boss Croker would blush to think he had ever imagined himself the king of political corruption.

THE Democrats are working the close counties for all they are worth and are backing their finely put falsehoods with so much good money that Campbell may gain a few votes.

MR. BRICE can never hope to be senator from Ohio as long as he shows that he only uses its people to raise his social importance and elevate him as an individual in the eyes of the world.

It is almost time for the truthful Colonel Taylor to begin the announcement that Campbell will carry the state with a few million votes to spare. That would be in line with the kind of campaign the Democrats are carrying on.

A BLUNDER.

Campbell, candidate for governor, has blundered. His friend Mr. Brice has not yet discovered the error, but there are reasons for believing that he will know all about it on the morning of the first Wednesday following the first Monday in November. When Brice selected Campbell to head the ticket, and secured the Hamilton attorney's promise after it was known that the ex-governor would not have to pay the bill, he fondly imagined he had a treasure. Evidently he rubbed his hands approvingly together while a smile rippled out to the curling ends of his well kept whiskers; but he erred. He did not know his man. Brice hoped to find in him a vote getter, but instead he has proved a vote repeller. Campbell has no one but himself to blame, but strange to say he does not realize his mistake. For some reason he has not discovered that the disgraceful screeds he utters on the platform are not acceptable to the people of Ohio, and the language in which he clothes his political prevarications is not calculated to gain him strength. If he knows, he does not heed the warning of his friends, for they surely realize that the outrageous falsehoods and Munchausen stories uttered every day by the Democratic press and platform will do their cause no good. On the other hand it is showing the people that they have no ground on which to base their assertions, absolutely nothing as an incentive except the substantial offerings from the liberal hand of the New York railroad king who wants to represent Ohio in the senate.

Every mother should know that croup can be prevented. The first symptom of true croup is hoarseness. This is followed by a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the cough has developed it will prevent the attack. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. DURRANT TESTIFIES.

He Appears on the Stand in His Own Defense.

GIVES STRENGTH TO HIS ALIBI.

He Details His Movements on That Fatal April 3 Without a Tremor—He Emphatically Denies That He Murdered Blanche Lamont.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—Theodore Durrant, assistant superintendent of Emanuel church Sunday school, has declared on the witness stand that he did not murder Blanche Lamont in the belfry of the church on April 3. With the same coolness that has characterized his conduct since his arrest, he denied the principal allegations that have been made against him by the most important witnesses for the prosecution. His answers were always brief and to the point. Taken altogether, Durrant's direct testimony probably had a tendency to strengthen his case. His demeanor while on the stand was certainly intended to impress the jury with the opinion that he was telling the truth. Questions that would ordinarily cause a visible impression on a guilty man were answered by Durrant with the utmost unconcern. Even when Attorney Deuprey asked him if on the 8d of April, or at any other time, he murdered or participated in the murdering of Blanche Lamont, the prisoner coolly replied in the negative.

The examination of Durrant was begun with the questions relative to his age and his early life in this city. Coming down to the day upon which Blanche Lamont was murdered, the prisoner was asked to relate his movements from the time he left his home in the morning until he returned at night. He said he met Miss Lamont on her way to school and rode with her on a streetcar until he reached Cooper Medical college. He said he remained at the college until 10 o'clock, when he and another student named Ross went for a walk. Then he returned an hour later and went to his studies until noon. He was engaged in his studies until noon. Then he went to luncheon with a student named Diggins, and returned at 1 o'clock. After luncheon Durrant remained in the library until 3:30 o'clock, when he attended Dr. Cheney's lecture. He said he was present at the lecture at the close of the lecture and answered to his name.

At the close of the lecture Durrant said he boarded a street car and rode to Emanuel church for the purpose of repairing the sunburners. He denied that he was accompanied by Blanche Lamont or anybody else. Upon entering the church he said he left his coat and vest in the library, obtained the necessary tools and ascended to the gallery. A blackboard was provided and Durrant drew a rude sketch of the church and its tall spire to illustrate the manner in which he made the repairs. He said to make the repairs it was necessary for him to lie at full length on a plank which was much lower than his feet. In this position he inhaled so much gas that he was made ill.

To illustrate the manner in which the gas escaped Durrant took a burner and descending to the jury box, explained the construction of the burner to the jury. After repairing the burner Durrant said that he descended to the auditorium, where he found George King playing on the organ. King remarked that Durrant looked pale. Durrant replied that King would be in the same condition if he had been nearly overcome by escaping gas. At Durrant's request King bought some bromo seltzer, which the prisoner drank. The medicine made him feel better, and at 6 o'clock Durrant left the church in company with King. He went out of his way two blocks to converse with King, after which they separated and Durrant went home to dinner.

Durrant said he felt ill and ate but little. In the evening he went to prayermeeting at Emanuel church. He saw Mrs. Noble and asked her if Blanche was coming to prayermeeting. Mrs. Noble replied that she did not believe her niece would be present. He related a number of other minor incidents in connection with his conversation with Mrs. Noble, who evidently did not endorse his statements from the fact that she shook her head several times. At the close of the services Durrant said he went home and retired. Durrant denied that on the afternoon of April 3, he was at the corner of Powell and Clay streets, as testified to by Mrs. Vogel. He also denied the statement of three school girls, who testified that Durrant and Blanche Lamont boarded a Powell street car at Clay street and rode toward Market. He said he did not ride on a westbound Valencia street car with Blanche Lamont, as testified to by Mrs. Crossell. He said he was never in Queen's pawnshop.

"Did you, on April 3, in San Francisco or elsewhere," asked Attorney Deuprey, "inflict any violence on Blanche Lamont, or did you kill or participate in killing her?"

Durrant replied that he did not and the direct examination was at an end. The cross-examination was confined to questions relative to the life of Durrant prior to April 3.

THE POPE DISPLEASED.

He Complains of the Recent Fetes Held Throughout Italy.

ROME, Oct. 10.—The letter of his holiness, Pope Leo XIII., to Cardinal Rampolla, the papal secretary of state, on the recent fetes in celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the entry of the Italian troops into Rome, has been published here. The pope says in part:

"The sentiment of humanity, which even minds dominated by passion retain, seemed to permit of the hope of some consideration in our old age, but this has been brutally ignored. We have been induced to become almost immediate witnesses of the apotheosis of the Italian revolution and the spoliation of the holy see. That which most afflicted us is the design to perpetuate rather than to terminate the conflict of which no one can measure the disastrous effects."

LIMA, O., Oct. 10.—A sensational suit growing out of the failure of the Lima National bank four years ago has been commenced by James A. Hoyer, one of the stockholders, who has sued B. C. Faurot, as agent and director, and D. J. Cable, W. H. Harper, Jacob Moser, C. A. Metheny and W. H. Stephens, all prominent citizens and directors in the defunct bank.

He Merely Said He Would Take Such Steps as the Law Authorized Sports Before the Austin Grand Jury—Pug May Be Indicted.

DALLAS, Oct. 10.—The Florida Athletic club has moved its headquarters to Hot Springs, Ark., where it will hold its pugilistic carnival of three days, commencing Oct. 31, the date originally selected and already given out. All the parties to the contest have fully agreed and the matter is settled.

A Little Rock special says: Governor Clarke, when shown the Dallas telegram about the change of the Florida Athletic club to Hot Springs, said he had nothing to say at this time. He would wait and see if the change was made and would then take such steps as the law authorized.

An Austin special says: The situation anent the presence of the Corbett training party in the city as witnesses has entirely changed. Mr. C. Walsh, the foreman of the grand jury, when asked, after adjournment, what he had summoned the party from San Antonio for, replied that he knew absolutely nothing of their coming until he was informed that they were in the city. A glance at the order docket showed that District Attorney Burleson had, on his own hook, caused the issuance of the writs that brought the men here, and that was why the grand jury knew nothing about it.

The party was examined by the grand jury, but nothing was asked them in a direct way, though the inference to be drawn from the questions asked is that it is the desire to ascertain whether or not there is a contract between Corbett and Fitzsimmons to fight in Dallas and whether they are not now training in the state under that contract. The district attorney says he desires to prosecute Corbett and Fitzsimmons if they are violating the Texas laws, and he believes they are, in conspiring to commit a felony.

The Corbett party were permitted to return to San Antonio, the grand jury having no further business with them. It is intimated that the best feeling does not exist between the district attorney and the grand jury on account of his arbitrary actions in this matter and they "called him down." The investigation is very liable to be a fizzle.

Corbett Couldn't Fight There. LONDON, Oct. 10.—Nothing is known at the London clubs of any offer having been made or being in contemplation which would be likely to give color to the report circulated in the United States that inducements were being held out to Corbett and Fitzsimmons from this side of the water to fight in England or elsewhere in Europe. In fact, members of the National Sporting club say that Corbett would not be allowed to put his foot inside their door.

Fighting Stopped in Louisville. LOUISVILLE, Oct. 10.—Prizefighting in Louisville has received a knockout blow in the shape of an order issued by the board of public safety to General Taylor, chief of police. The order will have the effect of stopping all glove contests in the theaters, athletic clubs or elsewhere within the city limits, if enforced, which the board says it will be to the letter for all time to come.

General Mahone's Funeral. PETERSBURG, Va., Oct. 10.—The remains of General Mahone when they reached Petersburg were met by the A. P. Hill Camp, Confederate Veterans, under command of Lieutenant Morgan, and a large number of citizens. The procession moved to the family residence on Market street, where the casket was opened and the dead soldier and statesman viewed by his old comrades and other citizens. Later the funeral occurred.

Poisoned His Children. GRIFFIN, Ga., Oct. 10.—News has just reached this city of a tragedy that occurred in Pike county, near Milner, in which eight or nine children lost their lives by poison administered by their father. Tom Speer, taking advantage of his wife's absence and being prompted by jealousy, administered the fatal dose to his children. The fiend is now behind the bars.

Endorsed Tammany Nominations. NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The executive committee of the society for liberal Sunday laws, at a meeting held in the Astor House, endorsed the Tammany political nominations. This society represents the union saloon interests of the city, and its action is regarded as very important.

Gas Explosion in a Theater. CORNICANA, Tex., Oct. 10.—An explosion of gas has occurred in the Cornicana Opera House. Harry Cole, of the "Devil's Auction" company, was killed. Eight others were injured.

REPUBLICANS OF OHIO.

Do Your Whole Duty—Governor McKinley's Strong Plea at Marietta.

"I want you to give to General Bushnell more votes than you ever gave to me or any other Republican candidate for governor. [Answers of 'We will.'] I believe you will. I want you to do another thing. I want you to elect every man on your legislative, county and senatorial ticket. Why do I want you to do that? Great and important as the election of Governor Bushnell is it sinks into insignificance when compared with the election of a United States senator from Ohio. One vote in the senate of the United States may determine the political question of that body for years to come. If that one vote had been Republican instead of Democratic, and if that one vote had been cast by Governor Foraker instead of Mr. Brice, do you think that the Wilson bill, with its unjust discrimination, with its free wool, could ever have become a law? Never. This year you give your commission to vote your sentiments for six years in the senate of the United States.

When you give your commission to your senator it lasts six years, and you can not recall it. Now, how important it is, if you believe in Republican principles and politics, that you unite as one man in electing every legislative candidate on the Republican ticket this year. All differences should be adjusted. The Republican party, in my judgment, never had so great a stake as now in Ohio, and the Republican party, in my judgment, never was so united as it is in Ohio this year. I want you to elect a Republican legislature, because I want that legislature to elect to the senate that brilliant orator, that great statesman, that gallant soldier, Joseph Benson Foraker (prolonged cheers). I want Sherman, glorious old Sherman, I want him to have Republican colleague. He has had a Democratic colleague long enough.

I want Ohio's two votes in the senate of the United States from this time forward, to be given for the true American policy, to be given for the highest patriotism, to be given for the broadest protection of all the interests, domestic and foreign, of the American people. So give to the entire state ticket your qualified and earnest support. We do not want to take a step backward in Ohio. We set the pace in 1893 for the rest of the country. Let us set the pace in 1895 for the rest of the country in 1896. You can not count on many staying at home this year as much as they stayed at home last year, and the only way you can discount their coming out this year is to come out in greater numbers than you have before."—McKinley at Marietta Oct. 1.

Gems From President Cleveland's Pension Veto.

It is sad but true that in procuring pensions there exists a widespread disregard of truth and good faith; the race after these pensions would stimulate weakness and pretended incapacity and put a premium on dishonesty and mendacity. The soldiers of our civil war, in their pay and bounty, received such compensation for military service as has never been received by soldiers before since mankind went to war. The really needy have been provided for at soldiers' homes.—Veto of Dependent Pension Bill.

The number of instances in which those of our soldiers who rode horses during the war were injured by being thrown forward upon their saddles would indicate that those saddles were very dangerous contrivances.—Veto of Alfred Denny Pension Bill.

I can not spell out any principle upon which the bounty of the government should be bestowed through the instrumentality of the flood of pension bills that reach me. The theory seems to have been adopted that no man who served in the army can be the subject of death or impaired health except they are chargeable to his service.—Veto of M. A. Daugherty bill.

Whatever else may be said of this this claimant's achievements during his short military career, it must be conceded that he accumulated a great deal of disability.—Veto of Wilson pension bill.

Brice's Little Plan—A Colonization Scheme.

With Senator Calvin S. Brice, business is politics, and politics is business. Most well-informed people know that the senator has very recently made heavy investments in Ohio railroad property. He has just acquired Mr. Lynch's Akron road, the Cleveland Akron and Columbus has fallen under his protecting care, and the Cincinnati, Jackson and Mackinaw route which he controls is now more his than ever. He has for a long time held the Lake Erie and Western. On all these roads astonishing improvements are to be begun before Oct. 4.

The date is important. The men to be imported for this work can be brought from safe, or certainly Republican counties, and acquire residence in close railroad counties, and then vote for the legislative candidates set up by our distinguished senator. The colonization scheme is an old one, but it is generally efficacious when properly carried out. Brice has the money to percolate out. Brice has the Toledo fact and executed a public service in Ohio has performed a public service in calling attention to this scheme, whose object can only be defeated by the combined action of the thoughtful and high-minded voters of the state.—Massillon Independent.

The fashion is catching. Argentina is talking of a bond issue. What a comment that the bankrupt South American states should be in any way comparable with the United States.

The news from Kentucky is to the effect that Hardin is in danger of going under. As a millstone, the Democratic double-action platform seems to be a glittering success.

New motto of the United States treasury: "I will find a surplus, or make one."

Shall Cuba go free—well, I should smile. For freedom now is all the style. Shall Cuba Havana, that fair one of note? She can have her at once, if it depends on my vote.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The driver of a horse attached to a light buggy came near going over the hill on the Wellsville road near Walkers last night, the horse scaring at a street car.

Much amusement was occasioned on Sixth street last evening when the Salvation Army band played lustily in an endeavor to drown the music of the minstrels.

The Daughters of Liberty were entertained in a pleasant manner at the residence of Henry Riley, in Chester last evening, a number from this city being present.

Mrs. D. J. Petticoat, of this city, moved her household goods today to Steubenville. Reverend Wilkes and his family departed for Middletown this afternoon.

Winnie Mercer and Toadix Carey, the professional ball players, will play with the Cambridge team on Saturday. They are the star attraction of the game, and a big crowd will see them on the diamond.

Thomas Clinton, one of the best known potters in the city, has gone to Akron, where he will be employed as foreman of the clay shops at the pottery John Kailig left for there this morning, and will work under Mr. Clinton.

Will Graham and Russell Heddleson, who went to Marietta a week ago on a tandem, returned last evening delighted with the trip. They encountered the usual hard luck of amateur wheelmen, but nevertheless enjoyed the jaunt.

Chicken thieves are disturbing the serenity of the West End, one resident losing a pair of plump hens last night, and another being victimized to the extent of four. Some one will get hurt in that part of town if the depredations are continued.

Rising Sun castle, Knights of the Golden Eagle, drove over from Palestine last night, and paid a visit to Hope castle, in this city. The party was made up of 20 members, and they continued the merriment here until midnight. The local lodge gave them a delightful evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hill, of Kossuth street, will leave next Saturday for Atlanta, where Mr. Hill will attend a national laundry men's association meeting, after which they will spend a few weeks seeing the exposition. Few Liverpool people will go to Atlanta during the next two months.

A meeting will be held in Turner hall tonight for the purpose of organizing an Association football team. The members will be those who once belonged to a club of that kind in the city and a number of Turners who are anxious for a club. It was thought at first that a Rugby team would be the outcome of the movement, but the plans were changed.

The exodus to Pittsburg was made up of 375 people this morning, and that other towns were represented at the exposition was shown by the fact that an extra train was needed to carry them over the route. The loss to Liverpool by the excursion can not be less than $1500, and by some business men it is estimated at a much higher figure.

Engineer George is taking bids today for the construction of the sewer at the Standard pottery, and will likely let the contract tonight. The contractors want the job, and a number of bids are in possession of the engineer. No time will be lost in getting the work completed, as the company are more than anxious to have the building up before the new year begins.

A party of Liverpool boys who were hunting chestnuts in West Virginia met with a farmer who did not want them around. They were ordered off the farm, and walked away, the farmer following closely to see that his order was obeyed. At length they wearied of the chase, and one of them drawing a revolver, commanded the owner of the land to keep his distance. He kept it.

At the closing sessions of the missionary society of the Christian church in session at Steubenville, Reverend Huffer, of this city, was elected secretary and treasurer, and Miss Alva Jackson was elected secretary of the women's society. Those present from this city as delegates were Mr. Thompson, Oliver Vodrey, Miss Maggie Hayes, Miss Jackson and Miss Mary Lyons, who is also secretary of the board of missions of Hiram college.

A movement is on foot to form a naval militia for Ohio, the companies to be located in towns on the lake and the larger rivers. The secretary of the navy has been informed that a number of prominent citizens interested in the movement will meet in Columbus to consider the matter this month. If any place gets a company, Liverpool should be remembered. The idea is to have the legislature act on the plan and make an appropriation at the next session.

THE NEWS REVIEW WINS

A Compliment From the Inland Printer.

But it Graciously Says the Job Department of the News Review is a Daisy—A Technical Journal of Authority Talks Right Out.

An example of good typographical display work is the Young Men's Christian association lecture course program, from the press of the NEWS REVIEW, East Liverpool, Ohio. The best use of the type at disposal has evidently been made by an artistic compositor, and the result is exceedingly commendable—inland Printer. The above is a compliment. It is a world of praise from the highest authority on the art preservative in the world. The inland Printer has so long been an authority that no one ever attempts to buy its opinions. They are not for sale and the printers know it. What the inland says sinks deep every month into the hearts of its thousands of readers all over the country. The mention of any specimen of job work in its columns is a guarantee that the workman who did it is not a blacksmith, but on the other hand stands high in ability and experience. On one other occasion did the inland mention the printing done by the NEWS REVIEW, but never has it spoken in such terms as those which appear above. Of course the NEWS REVIEW appreciated it. Not only do the owners feel complimented, but all the boys in the office are happy. Particularly is this true of Mr. U. G. King, the artistic foreman of the job department who superintended the work of getting out the program in question and to whom much of the credit is due. The compliment means a great deal because it shows the NEWS REVIEW employs none but workmen capable of turning out the best work for miles around. It is the best advertisement the NEWS REVIEW could have.

MORE BRADSHAW SUITS.

As Usual it is a Note and the First National Has It.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

LISBON, Oct. 10.—The First National bank of East Liverpool today brought suit against A. C. Bradshaw and J. J. Purinton to recover $600 on a note given last May.

E. C. Adams, of Liverpool, seeks to settle in court a controversy growing out of a real estate deal. Last June he bought from H. C. Rigby a part of lot 368 under the impression that it extended back 90 feet, but when he went to occupy the premises learned that the defendant claimed 30 feet. He paid $2,000 for the land, and thinking he was cheated when the deed was made, asks the court to give him the property in dispute.

Judge Billingsley today issued an order postponing the assignment for next week one week, because the repairs being made to the heating apparatus at the court house have not been completed. Court, however, will be in session, except on Monday, for the consideration of minor matters.

A TROUBLESOME SHOULDER.

Homer Barnes, a young man who was employed at the plant of the Pottery Supply company, is home from Cleveland, where he has been in a hospital for three months. Some time ago he lost the use of an arm, and thinking that he was paralyzed, went to the hospital in the hope of securing relief. The doctors treated him to the best of their ability, but he grew no better, until one day it was discovered that he had dislocated his shoulder. This little defect was soon repaired and he was soon recovering. Barnes is now rapidly regaining the strength of the arm.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gundersen, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist church at River Junction she was brought down with pneumonia succumbing to La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at T. L. Pott's drug store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.

No New Trial.

Squire Rose today gave a decision in the motion for a new trial filed by J. A. Page, who got a judgment against McGhie & Moore the other day. The squire ruled there should be no new trial.

"I would rather trust that medicine than any doctor I know of," says Mrs. Hattie Mason, of Chilton, Carter Co., Mo., in speaking of Chamberlain's Cough, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

said the girl was in his room several times, but not for any bad purpose. On cross examination he reiterated this, saying she had merely come up for something to eat. He did not carry her up stairs, and if he ever pulled down the blinds when she was there it was for no vile purpose.

Doctor Laughlin said he made but a partial examination, and not full enough to show that injury had been inflicted by anyone. He thought Edna should have been placed under the influence of an anesthetic and examined.

The attorney for the state then appealed to the court that the defendant should be held for court, as the charge against him was a serious one, stating that the girl's testimony was straightforward and convincing and had been corroborated by competent witnesses. Then he dwelt upon the child's condition as given by Doctor Laughlin, and coincided in by Doctor Sloan. Just then Colonel Hill called his opponent to order for shouting as if he intended to make all the vicinity hear, or was attempting an evangelical plea. The response came quickly:

"I'd like to preach right here, colonel, for you need it badly. I'd like to have a mourner's bench right here for your especial benefit, colonel, for it might do you infinite good. I generally speak in a tone and manner to suit myself, and I shall continue to do so, as long as I am in proper bounds."

There were several tilts between the counsel, bright and keen, give and take, causing much merriment among the few spectators.

At 3:35 Colonel Hill commenced his plea for his client, taking the standpoint that he had no "infalutin" speech to make, no "sympathy racket" to work, but plain, practical argument.

At 4:30 Conkle was held under $5,000 bond to answer before the grand jury.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quieted. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment, before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Largest of the Season.

Al G. Field's minstrels drew the largest crowd of the season to the Grand last night, and as usual did not disappoint the audience. The novelty of the performance was the fact that all the members of the company were dark complexioned artists, and the manner in which they passed through the program showed training and talent. Not a member of the company was out of place, and everyone seemed at home in his particular work. The music was very good and the fun decidedly interesting.

Mrs. Townsend Complains.

Mrs. Townsend, who with her daughter called on the police because they feared the daughter's husband, James Owens, the other night, complains bitterly of the manner in which she was treated by a local paper. The sheet so twisted and contorted the facts that Mrs. Townsend would not have recognized the story had not her name appeared.

In a State of Bankruptcy

—is the condition of our system if the liver becomes inactive so that the germs and poisons can accumulate within the body. Keep the liver and bowels active and we're in a condition of healthy prosperity and have sufficiently well-invested capital to draw upon in the hour of need. The liver filters out the poisonous germs which enter the system. Just so surely as the liver regulates the system, so do Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate the liver. Keep this in mind, and you solve the problem of good health and good living. The "Pleasant Pellets" have a tonic, strengthening effect upon the lining membranes of the stomach and bowels, which effectually cures Biliousness, Sick Headache, Costiveness, or Constipation, Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Bad Taste in Mouth, Sour Risings from Stomach, and will often cure Dyspepsia. The "Pellets" are tiny, because the vegetable extracts are refined and concentrated. Easy in action, no griping as with old-fashioned pills. As a "dinner pill," to promote digestion, take one each day after dinner. To relieve the distress arising from over-eating, nothing equals one of these little "Pellets."

Mrs. MELISSA ATWATER, of Steubenville, Washington Co., Me., writes: "As regards the little 'Pellets,' I think I could not do without them. I do not like to be without them in the house. I have spoken very highly of them to my friends and neighbors of them, and many are taking them through my advertising them. I will say they are the best pill I can take, especially for an after-dinner pill, I think they have no equal."

MRS. ATWATER.

"Pensions Granted Ohio Soldiers."

In the newspapers all over Ohio we read the list of names of pensions granted to Ohio soldiers, and in every one of these lists by far the largest number is headed "Reissued," which is a fraud and intended by those furnishing these lists for publication to deceive the people.

A "Reissue" under a Republican administration was to grant a pension on some new disability, and thereby increase the soldier's pension, but under the present administration it is to re-issue the soldier's pension, as it is shown by the records in 49 cases out of 50, and the following is only one of the thousands of cases that are being sent out by the pension department under the heading "Reissue."

John Brown had rheumatism, liver disease, catarrh and deafness, and draws a pension of $10 per month. The pension department has given him notice that this does not constitute a sufficient degree of disability to entitle the pensioner to so munificent a sum. In a short time, under the report of pensions issued will appear the name of John Brown under the head of reissue. The public will think John Brown has struck a bonanza, and there is a new name on the pension rolls. John will know, however, that it is a notice that his pension has been reduced to $6 per month, and that it would probably have been $4 or $2 per month, but for the law of last year which makes the minimum $5.

The daily papers in publishing the list of pensions granted, should have a note under that head explaining the fact that reissue simply means unlawful reductions, and thus defeat the confidence game being played on the public. If they can't defeat the robbery of disabled soldiers, they can at least expose hypocrisy of the record so the public may understand it.

The Doctors Object.

The doctors want the county capital moved to this city or some arrangement made whereby they can be recompensed for the loss they sustain by going before the grand jury or the court. They declare they lose $150 by each trip, without counting the inconvenience of being away from business.

After More Information.

Trustee Lloyd has written to the Portage county woman who says she is the sister of Mrs. White, who died at the Hotel Grand, in order to know what to do with her belongings. The trustees have the poor woman's effects, and are anxious to send them to the people who have some legal claim.

Peter Murray's Side.

Peter Murray, the pugilist, says that he was not fighting with Bunt Hassey the other night, but, on the other hand, was endeavoring to prevent him from whipping the other man. The statement is made in justice to Murray, who never fights, except in the ring.

BOODLE AND BOTTLES

A Passenger Taken From a Train Had Both.

ONE FLASK NOT QUITE FULL

But the Individual Made Up For the Defect—Detective Meehan Took Him In, and the Patrol Gave Him a Ride. Retribution and Repentance Today.

There was a scene on the east bound train yesterday afternoon, and when it was all over Ben Wright, a passenger, was locked up at city hall, and the authorities had captured enough whisky to make half the force hilarious had they been bibulously inclined.

Wright boarded the train at a point down the river, and soon showed evidences of having swallowed something more powerful than the microbe laden water of the Ohio. When he reached here he became involved in a quarrel with another passenger, and gave utterances to words that would not look well in print. He was ordered to behave himself, but was kind enough to tell the conductor that he was old enough to be his own master, and he was, until Detective Meehan took him by the arm. The patrol was called, and Wright was unceremoniously tumbled in, enjoying the ride to jail as though he was in a trolley. On being searched he was found to own two bottles of whisky, one like himself, real full, a grip and $24.32 in money. These were held for future reference, and the happy Ben was locked up.

Benjamin was asked this morning what he had to say for himself, and as he could make no satisfactory explanation, Mayor Gilbert fined him $7.60. He paid the bill and went on his way rejoicing that justice did not cost more in Liverpool.

A Compliment From the Inland Printer.

An example of good typographical display work is the Young Men's Christian association lecture course program, from the press of the NEWS REVIEW, East Liverpool, Ohio. The best use of the type at disposal has evidently been made by an artistic compositor, and the result is exceedingly commendable—Inland Printer. The above is a compliment. It is a world of praise from the highest authority on the art preservative in the world. The Inland Printer has so long been an authority that no one ever attempts to buy its opinions. They are not for sale and the printers know it. What the Inland says sinks deep every month into the hearts of its thousands of readers all over the country. The mention of any specimen of job work in its columns is a guarantee that the workman who did it is not a blacksmith, but on the other hand stands high in ability and experience. On one other occasion did the Inland mention the printing done by the NEWS REVIEW, but never has it spoken in such terms as those which appear above. Of course the NEWS REVIEW appreciated it. Not only do the owners feel complimented, but all the boys in the office are happy. Particularly is this true of Mr. U. G. King, the artistic foreman of the job department who superintended the work of getting out the program in question and to whom much of the credit is due. The compliment means a great deal because it shows the NEWS REVIEW employs one but workmen capable of turning out the best work for miles around. It is the best advertisement the NEWS REVIEW could have.

As Usual it is a Note and the First National Has It.

LISBON, Oct. 10.—The First National bank of East Liverpool today brought suit against A. C. Bradshaw and J. J. Purinton to recover $600 on a note given last May.

E. A. Adams, of Liverpool, seeks to settle in court a controversy growing out of a real estate deal. Last June he bought from H. C. Rigby a part of lot 308 under the impression that it extended back 90 feet, but when he went to occupy the premises learned that the defendant claimed 30 feet. He paid $2,000 for the land, and thinking he was cheated when the deed was made, asks the court to give him the property in dispute.

Judge Billingsley today issued an order postponing the assignment for next week one week, because the repairs being made to the heating apparatus at the court house have not been completed. Court, however, will be in session, except on Monday, for the consideration of minor matters.

Homer Barnes, a young man who was employed at the plant of the Potters' Supply company, is home from Cleveland, where he has been in a hospital for three months. Some time ago he lost the use of an arm, and thinking that he was paralyzed, went to the hospital in the hope of securing relief. The doctors treated him to the best of their ability, but he grew no better, until one day it was discovered that he had dislocated his shoulder. This little defect was soon repaired and he was soon recovering. Barnes is now rapidly regaining the strength of the arm.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist church at River Junction she was brought down with pneumonia, succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at T. L. Pott's drug store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.

No New Trial.

Squire Rose today gave a decision in the motion for a new trial filed by J. A. Page, who got a judgment against McBride & Moore the other day. The squire ruled there should be no new trial.

"I would rather trust that medicine than any doctor I know of," says Mrs. Hattie Mason, of Chilton, Carter Co., Mo., in speaking of Chamberlain's Cough, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.
